The workshop will interweave evidence-based didactic discussion of wound care and suturing principles with practical hands-on experience practicing suturing technique. Participants will have the opportunity to practice several basic suturing techniques. This will be a "clean" workshop in that no fluids or animal tissues will be used. Supplies will be provided courtesy of the NYSCHA Clinical Medicine Section. A limit of 10 people can participate in this workshop.

If you are registered for the NYSCHA Annual Meeting, there is no additional charge for this workshop.
