

Clinical Education Initiative (CEI)

The New York State Department of Health AIDS Institute Clinical Education Initiative (CEI) is designed to enhance the capacity of New York's diverse health care workforce to deliver clinical services to improve health outcomes related to HIV, HCV, STDs, and drug user health. CEI provides a wide array of clinical education trainings, resources, and tools to clinicians at no cost!

CEI Line (866)637-2342

The CEI Line connects New York State medical providers to highly knowledgeable specialists regarding HIV, HCV, STDs, PEP, and PrEP. After providing some general information, an experienced clinician will speak with you to answer your questions and provide guidance regarding your patient. This toll-free number is a resource for New York State medical providers only and is not available to the general public. To speak with an experienced specialist, call the CEI Line today at (866)637-2342.

Trainings and Conferences

CEI provides free clinical trainings to health agencies on HIV, HCV, STDs, and drug user health. Courses are offered either in-person or via webinar and free CME, CNE, and CPE credits are available. CEI also has various regional conferences, live webinars, and archived webinars available for viewing. To view a complete list of currently offered trainings or learn about upcoming regional conferences or trainings near you, visit the CEI website at www.ceitraining.org.

HIV, HCV, and STD Intensive Preceptorship Programs

Our preceptorship programs provide an intensive experience for practicing clinicians. Through a combination of didactic sessions and experiential training, clinicians are able to enhance their HIV, HCV, or STD prevention, treatment, and care knowledge and competence to better serve their patients. These programs are offered multiple times throughout the year.

Project ECHO™

CEI offers an exciting new "telementoring" program for providers of HIV/AIDS and STD clinical care. Using the ECHO™ model, CEI - ECHO sessions will provide you with a regular opportunity to discuss cases from your practice with HIV and STD experts. Each session will also feature a short didactic presentation on a topic of interest to you.

Technical Assistance

Would you like to speak with an experienced clinician to discuss your agency's policy and procedure protocol regarding HIV, HCV, and/or STD treatment or prevention services? CEI provides one-on-one technical assistance to health agencies who would like an experienced medical provider to help create, review, and discuss implementation.

Clinical Cards and Tools

Our convenient cards provide clinically relevant information on the recommended regimens and screening sequences, lab tests and monitoring, the CEI Line, as well as further guideline information and CEI initiatives. Please note these cards are intended for New York clinicians only. To view and order clinical cards, please visit <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/CEIprovidertools>.
